
eMed FHIR API 2.0 Access & Configuration Requirements

Pre-Requirements:

Step 1: Signup for a Developer account

1. Registration Process for Developer Account:
 - a. Access eMedicalPractice WebPortal 2.0
 - b. Find the developer registration form
 - c. Read and Accept the terms and conditions to use eMedical FHIR API 2.0
 - d. Complete the registration form with all required details and Submit the form.
 - e. eMedical Accounts Registration team will review your request
 - f. You will receive a Registration URL to your e-Mail.
 - g. Follow the URL and Create a new Password to your developer account.

Step 2: Software components & configuration requirements

1. After successful registration, you can create a New Application name
2. A unique Client ID will be Generated to your application
3. A Sandbox URL will be provided
4. Use this Client ID to authenticate your application to access Sandbox.
5. Access the API by reviewing the publicly available eMedical FHIR API 2.0 documentation
6. After Implementation submit your application for Tech Review with eMedicalPractice
7. Every Update requires tech review and APPROVAL before making available to end user

Signup for a developer Account

Personal Information:

Last Name: _____

First Name: _____

Email Address: _____

Contact No: _____

Organization: _____

Work Phone: _____

Address1: _____

Address2: _____

City: _____

State: _____

Zip code: _____

Describe in detail purpose of API access:

 If you are submitting the registration form that means you are accepting the Terms and Conditions of eMedPractice LLC developer account and API usage.